

PIPELINES — ARE — LIFELINES

Helping Us Get Where We Need to Go

Convenience

Hectic lives depend on quick and easy access to energy

Options

Playtime can mean being able to get to the park or a concert

Affordable

Driving long distances is more affordable with plentiful U.S. energy supplies

The gasoline or diesel we put in our cars and trucks, that propels our Ubers, the jet fuel for the planes we ride, all at some point travels through a pipeline

Convenience

- Having plentiful energy delivered by our pipeline network means we never need to go far to fill up our tank
- Our busy lives are more manageable because energy is convenient and available
- A long commute or road trip with friends is never a worry because we have easy access to fuels delivered by pipeline

Options to Choose

- We have plenty of options for getting where we need to go because of energy delivered by pipelines
- You can choose to drive yourself, ride an Uber or take mass transit because plentiful energy supplies give us so many options to choose

Affordable Energy

- If getting where you need to go means you drive a lot, it's important to have access to affordable energy, especially in rural areas
- Affordable energy also helps us live where we want in places best for our families, because the cost of commuting is manageable
